

TEM Mission Statement

My mission is to attain a degree in mobile development and transition from my current career into one in the development field. I plan to achieve this by living with discipline and determination. Discipline is necessary for me to make sure that I am doing everything possible in order to complete my assignments on time and effectively fulfilling their requirements, making sure I have efficient time management, and that I am networking while attending school. Having determination is how I will be able to stick with my plan of transitioning into a mobile development career and not giving up on my goals. With discipline and determination, there is no way that I won't succeed in my industry.
